

Where can music take you?

Musician

A passionate musician can perform solo or with groups, bands, orchestras, or theatrical ensembles. Or choose to be a composer, instrumentalist or singer and work in studios or perform live. Succeeding in this field demands dedication and perseverance.

Private music teacher

Combine your music, teaching and business skills to become a private music teacher. This rewarding option offers flexible working hours, teaching individuals or groups either in schools, at home or through a music service. This career is always in demand and enjoyable.

Secondary school teacher

Passionately teach music to students aged 11-18, fostering their creativity and musical skills. Plan and deliver engaging lessons that cater to diverse music interests and abilities, inspiring students to learn new instruments and achieve qualifications.

Sound technician

Explore an interesting career choice offering opportunities to work in advertising, broadcasting, film and theatre. Choose to work in production or post-production, using your technical expertise and keen ear for audio.