

WHERE WILL YOUR MUSIC TAKE YOU?

DO YOU LOVE TO STUDY MUSIC BUT WONDER WHAT OPPORTUNITIES MIGHT AWAIT YOU IN THE FUTURE? HERE ARE SOME POPULAR CAREER CHOICES...

MUSIC THERAPIST

Use your music skills to help others. Communicate through music to help children and adults through a range of issues including eating disorders, anxiety, emotional issues and communication disorders. A truly rewarding career choice.

PRIVATE MUSIC TEACHER

Good at music, teaching and business? This could be the ideal option for you. Private music teaching is often a part-time side-line career due to the after-school, evening and weekend working hours. You could teach children or adults as individuals or in group classes - in schools, at home or as part of a music service. A fun, rewarding option, and a skill that's always in demand.

SOUND TECHNICIAN

An interesting career choice offering opportunities in a range of industries including advertising, broadcasting, film and theatre. You could choose to work in production (the initial recording of sound) or post-production (the editing of pre-recorded audio). This is a technical and challenging career choice ideally suited to candidates with a good ear and great technical knowledge.

MUSICIAN

Create and/or perform music solo or as part of a group such as in a band, orchestra, or theatrical ensemble. Often self-employed, musicians work varied hours. You could choose to be a composer, instrumentalist and/or a singer performing either in the studio or before a live audience. A passion for music, coupled with motivation, dedication and perseverance are required to succeed.

SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHER

Teach a subject you love and engage pupils aged 11-18 in developing their creative music skills. You'll plan and deliver lessons which reflect curriculum guidelines and cater for pupils with a range of musical interests and abilities. Inspire and challenge pupils to understand the intricacies of music, learn new instruments, and prepare them for qualifications.

OTHER JOB OPPORTUNITIES

There are many opportunities open to those with a talent for music, covering areas such as:
